La Collina del Tesoro

The Valentini family's organic clay hills between the Rabbi and Montone valleys: spontaneous fermentations, single-vineyard Predappio Sangiovese.

The Valentini family farms the clay hills around Vecchiazzano, between Forlì and Predappio, above the Montone valley. They describe their work as a love for these clays, and every wine is a reading of a single slope or vineyard.

All wines are organic, hand-harvested and fermented spontaneously, then aged in concrete and used barrels. Production is tiny — around 3,000 bottles per wine — crowned by Predappio crus such as Colombara d'Ottobre, from 50-year-old vines at 200 metres.
